How to search for and retrieve scholarly journal articles:

Go to http://library.gmu.edu/

1. Click here.
2. Type “communication” here.
3. Click here.
ALSO CHECK OUT ALL THE OTHER COMMUNICATION DATABASES AVAILABLE
ADD MORE DATABASES (scroll down to see them all)

SEE ADDED DATABASES HERE BY CLICKING “Show all”

BE SURE TO CHECK THIS BOX BEFORE SEARCHING
Enter your search terms and locators & click here to see your results.

Some have full text immediately clickable.

Some you have to work for by clicking here.

If you’re lucky, the system will take you to a link where the article is readily available in full text. Sometimes you have to click through the journal archives to get to it.
To find both electronic and hard copy holdings of journals, you can do a “quick search.” This is a bit more cumbersome.

The e-journal finder is also available directly from the libraries homepage.

You can search by keyword/subject or if you know the exact citation for an article you need, you can just start here to find the journal by its title.